Reference

Bosch Diesel spol. s r.o. is engaged in the manufacture of injection units for diesel engines, packing machines for the food processing industry, and injection pumps of Common Rail type.

Our activities requires that we come into contact, almost daily, with foreign partners within bids and tenders, manufacturing processes, relocations of manufacturing plants, training of personnel in the premises of parent companies, etc., while documents and negotiations are conducted solely in foreign languages.

For precise understanding, a majority of documents must be translated to Czech and back to the working language, which is mostly German and English. Very often, documents must have the form of sworn translations.

After having tested a number of translation agencies, we have chosen Aspena, s.r.o. This company always provides translations by agreed deadlines and in the required graphical format. Also, they provide us with comprehensive short and long-time interpreting both in this country and abroad. As an example, we can mention 25 days' interpreting in Germany or 15 days' interpreting in India, and 3 months' interpreting during the construction of a new manufacturing line in Jihlava.

We are regular customers of Aspena, s.r.o., especially owing to their strictly keeping the time of delivery, their ability to provide express services, when it has never happened that our requirements have not been met, and a very good standard of their translations and interpreting. In addition, Aspena, s.r.o. gives us customer discounts and respects our established invoicing conditions.

Out of translation agencies that we have tested, we currently consider the services of Aspena, s.r.o one of the most comprehensive and best and we can highly recommend them.
