Reference

Napos Oldal Translations is a leading provider of translation services into the languages of Central and Eastern Europe.

Located in Hungary and Slovakia at the heart of Central Europe, we specialise in translations concerning medical equipment, IT, automotive, telecoms, consumer electronics and office equipment.

We have been cooperating with the company Aspensa since 2004, and we use their top-quality translation services in high-profile projects for household names such as Siemens, Philips, etc. into Czech and Slovak. Over the years, Aspensa has translated hundreds of projects for us, most of which relate to medicine, medical equipment and engineering.

As Aspensa has always kept to the delivery terms as agreed, delivered translations to a high standard and ensured a professional approach in everyday communication with all the employees of our company and so we can highly recommend Aspensa to other companies requiring translation services.
